

LBMC CASE STUDY

MANUFACTURER OF AUTOMOTIVE GLASS

SITUATION

---

This company is a manufacturer of automotive glass products including windshields, door glass, back windows and sunroofs for original equipment manufacturers and for the automotive replacement market in North America. The client has produced exceptionally high-quality products for over twenty years.

APPROACH

---

Like many international companies, this company was searching for an accounting and business consulting team that they could trust. They needed an audit team that was keeping abreast of industry changes in corporate governance, financial reporting, accounting and auditing that might affect their business. They also needed a team that was well-versed in international financial reporting with foreign-owned companies, their management, and parent company auditors.

OUTCOME

---

The accounting and assurance services of LBMC are enhanced by the personal attention and business advice we provide to each client. Our staff is trained to examine not only the facts and figures, but also the implications of both current and future transactions. Our team searched for trends that may have been overlooked, and in doing so, our team identified opportunities that increased profitability and effectiveness.
